Person Specification

The role of Front of House Supervisor is vital to the smooth running of the venue's Front of House operation. It requires individuals who are highly motivated and strive to not only provide excellent internal and external customer service but lead in the delivery of such.

Being the face of the theatre for patrons means our Front of House team must be welcoming, with the ability to think ahead and anticipate the needs of customers and team members. They must welcome and engage with all patrons to ensure all have a truly great experience at our theatre.

Supervisors must be good communicators and be confident when dealing with both customers and their staff and know when it is appropriate to escalate a concern to the Front of House Manager.

The Front of House Team must have a great eye for detail so that the venue and team maintain a high level of appearance. The ability to keep accurate records is required to ensure sales and stock levels are correct and that incidents are accurately reported and acted upon.

Front of House team members must be flexible and able to problem solve quickly, responding to the demands of an exciting venue, where unforeseen challenges have the potential to arise. This position requires pro-activity, and a willingness to seek solutions to any issues as they arise.

Supervisors must remain calm under pressure, vigilant and understand the venue's health and safety procedures to ensure the safety of all their colleagues and patrons.

Crucially, the Front of House Team will consistently demonstrate a desire to learn new skills and to develop themselves professionally, to ensure that they make an ongoing contribution to the success of the venue.
